

Be a servant in every situation. I'm not trying to be the best, I'm trying to be the best servant .
-Lakwena

My practice is changing as I develop my visual language and I come to understand the foundations of graphic design and how I, as a designer, can add a new perspective.

I love the feeling when a new idea arrives in my head and when the possibilities are endless whilst the realisation is in sight. What (hopefully) follows is the satisfaction of a great idea coming to pass.

I am ambitious with my projects, striving to deliver my best for each brief, during which I am ready to learn new names of designers and new ways of creating

Remember that a pattern is either right or wrong. It cannot be forgiven for blundering, as a picture may be which has other-wise great qualities in it. It is with a pattern as with a fortress, it is no stronger than its weakest point.
